TEAM HOLDS URSINUS TO SCORELESS TIE Virtual Victory Won by Best Work of Season

PLAY EASTERN COLLEGE TOMORROW

Tomorrow's Game at Union League Park at 3 O'clock—Four New Men Report—Snake Dance on Field

By HOWARD SCOTT
Coach Sullivan's charges, in holding Ursinus College to a scoreless tie last Saturday afternoon at Georgetown field, won a victory. Although evenly matched, Ursinus previous to Saturday was considered stronger and George Washington's defeat was predicted. But by the most consistent work of the season, particularly on the defensive, the Buff and Blue warriors outplayed the Pennsylvanians. Eastern College will be played tomorrow at Union League Park at 3 o'clock. The team looks for a victory, as Eastern College has not a strong team.

The team has been strengthened by several new men. "Bill" Culligan, all-high quarter back of Business High School; H. E. Supplee, all-high Tech player and tackle at North Carolina Aggies; Leo Lanahan, Eastern High School star; and C. E. Chamblis, half back, have reported during the last week.

Scrimmage with the Mohawk athletic team was held Wednesday, with Burke, who has been on the sick list, in the scrimmage line. Hyde, former St. John's lineman, reported and scrimmaged for the first time.

Root and Snake Dance.
There was plenty of rooting and cheering at the game Saturday. Over 500 men and girls sat in the cheering section and yelled in unison with the antics of the cheer leaders. Between the halves, there was a rush to the field, and a snake, over 200 students long, tramped up and down the field. A circle was formed, cheers were given. (Continued on page 2)

EASTERN TEAM AND ROOTERS COMING FOR "BIG" GAME

First Football Team Since 1909—Team Averages 161 Pounds—Ready for Hard Fight

Special to The Hatchet.
Manassas, Va., Nov. 8.—The first football team that Eastern College has had since 1909 is ready to come to Washington for its "big" game of the season with George Washington University on Saturday.

Saturday morning, accompanied by most of the student body, the Red and White aggregation will leave here in special coaches for Washington.

The team comes ready for a hard fight, according to C. F. Rowland, manager of football. The team is being coached by S. F. Honaker, of Roanoke College and the University of Illinois.

Eastern's record this season is: Eastern, 10; Randolph-Macon, 0. Georgetown, 67; Eastern, 7. Western Maryland, 21; Eastern, 0. Eastern, 26; Gallaudet Reserves, 6. In the game with Gallaudet Reserves last Saturday, second string men were used, as chances of hurting their strongest men for Saturday's game could not be taken.

The probable line-up of the team, with weights, as furnished by Manager Rowland, will be: Hassan, 1. R., 165; Gregory, L. T., 160; Ferris, L. G., 155; Roads, C., 157; Moore, R. G., 163; Leith, R. G., 163; Frank, R. E., 166; Young, Q. B., 155; L. Pohl, R. H., 158; Smith, L. H., 165; G. Pohl, F. B., 159; team average, 161 pounds. Eastern College has 200 students and is co-educational. Football in 1909 was suspended for financial reasons, and not revived until this year.

COACH WATCHES G. U. GAME
Coach Sullivan spent election day in New York and saw Georgetown beat Fordham 13 to 0, to get a line on the Georgetown team in preparation for the Thanksgiving game.

Constance Collier To Talk of Her Art

Miss Constance Collier, the Mistress Ford in Silvio Hein's presentation of the "Merry Wives of Windsor" at the Belasco Theater this week, will speak on "Shakespeare's Heroines" and give readings in the A. & S. Assembly Hall tomorrow morning at 11:15 o'clock. The students of the University are invited.

Miss Collier is an English actress who made her first appearance at the age of 3 as Peablossom in "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Her next appearance was at the age of 8 when she played Puck, a part that had been played previously by her mother. Since her coming to America several years ago, she has played in a number of notable successes, among them Thais in a dramatization of the opera of that name and as Nancy in the revival of "Olivier Twist" two seasons ago.

Miss Collier is speaking at the invitation of the G. W. U. Players, who will make it a practice to ask prominent stage folk to address the students of the University from time to time.

FOOTBALL COSTS $3000

Athletic Finances Depend on G. U. Game

The true state of athletics finances was disclosed at the meeting of the Student Council Monday night.

Howard W. Hodgkins, new graduate manager of athletics, said that football would cost at least $3,000 over and above the money received at all games except the Georgetown game on Thanksgiving.

Three thousand dollars is all the money for athletics that can be expected from the activities tax, the amount of money that will be available for track and basketball and depends upon the success of the Georgetown game Thanksgiving.

Expenditures for football have been heavy up to present, and now Manager Hodgkins is practicing rigid economy of necessity.

The Eastern College game tomorrow is being played at Union League Park because of lack of money. It was considered unwise by the management to spend more money than absolutely necessary. It is estimated that the game will lose about $150 on guarantee and expenses, with little chance of much money on gate receipts.

The Ursinus game last Saturday represented a loss of about $200, although gate receipts were about $150.

"There is no cause for discouragement because of this financial condition," said Manager Hodgkins, "We must be very careful of the money we spend, that is all."

The meeting of the Council was short, owing to a poor attendance.

SEASON TICKETS NOT MAILED; TAX CARDS USED TOMORROW

Tax cards will be used for admission to the Eastern College game tomorrow, according to an announcement made Thursday morning.

Athletic season tickets have not been mailed yet, and it is probable that the season tickets will be distributed at the same time as tickets for the Georgetown game.

PLAN FRESHMAN PROM.

The social activities committee of the Student Council and the presidents of the freshmen classes of all departments will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the council room of the Law School to select a date and arrange for the annual Freshman Prom.

This is the big social function of the year, and is an annual fall event. Lucille W. Teller is chairman of the Council committee, consisting of Percy M. Johnson and M. Q. Cannon.

900 TAX SIGNERS NOW

Accurate Count Shows 48 Per Cent Signers

A careful count of tax subscribers on the mailing lists of The University Hatchet shows that there are 900 signers for the activities tax, or 48 per cent of the present registration of 1867. Columbian College shows big gains.

North Carolina Debate Here on December 18

The debate with the University of North Carolina will be held in Washington on Monday night, December 18. This was announced Wednesday by Coach P. B. Morehouse. The auditorium where the contest will be held has not yet been selected.

It is probable that negotiations will be begun with the University of Virginia for a debate in the spring.

Track Meet Near March 4; Eller Probable Track Coach

Extensive plans for the University track meet to be held March 3, 1917, the Friday before Inauguration, are being made by Manager William S. James. With the inducement of seeing an Inauguration and competing in the meet, it is expected that many teams will enter the meet.

An attempt will be made to arrange a Pennsylvania-Virginia-Cornell relay, and also one between George Washington, Georgetown and Maryland State.

Robert Eller, who is now in charge of athletic training of the Metropolitan Police, will probably coach the track team, after a call for candidates is issued in December.

A. R. Wingate is assistant manager of track, and Manager Jones announces that more men are needed for similar positions.

NO HAMPDEN-SYDNEY GAME; WANT TWO MORE CONTESTS

Altho it had been definitely announced earlier in the year that a game with Hampden-Sydney College on November 18 had been scheduled, an examination of football correspondence by Manager Hodgkins, after it had been turned over to him by former Manager Baer, fails to show any contract with that team.

This leaves the football team without a game after tomorrow's contest until Thanksgiving game.

An attempt is being made to schedule some local or nearby college for a home game on either November 18 or November 25.

PLAYERS PLAN TO GIVE WASHINGTON SQUARE PLAYS

The G. W. U. Players will probably produce four original playlets that have been obtained thru the courtesy of the Washington Square Players of New York, who recently played at the Belasco.

President Sol S. Gluck has received the playlets and they are now being read by the reading committee. These plays have never before been produced in the East.

Hodgkins Succeeds Baer As Graduate Manager

—Courtesy of The Post
HOWARD W. HODGKINS
New Graduate Manager of Athletics

David A. Baer, graduate manager of athletics, has resigned and Howard W. Hodgkins, B. S. in C. E. '13, LL. B. '16, has been appointed for the remainder of the year.

Mr. Baer gave as his reason for resigning lack of enough time to spend in the supervision of athletics. He has a large local law practice.

Following as it does the resignation of Donald McKnew as manager of football, and the appointment of T. C. Garner to that position, this latest development completely changes the control of football affairs.

Howard W. Hodgkins has probably been more prominent in the student activities during his student days and since than any other person connected with the University. His football experience has consisted of being captain of the last freshman football team in 1909, when it licked the sophomores 6 to 5, and of playing in the line at Central High School.

The following are a few of his honors: 1910-11, editor-in-chief of The Cherry Tree; 1911-12, manager of the track team; 1912-13, president of the athletic association which he helped to re-organize; he has helped former Prof. McNemar to manage track meets; 1914-15, editor of The Hatchet; president of the Enosinian Society; member of the Debating Council; at present a member of the board of managers of The University Hatchet, Inc., and second lieutenant of the Coast Artillery Company; in receiving B. S. in C. E., with distinction, in 1913, he was the first senior marshal; member of Theta Delta Chi, Phi Delta Phi (legal) and the Pyramid Honor Society. His father is Dean Howard L. Hodgkins of the Department of Arts and Sciences.

ATHLETICS TICKETS GOOD FOR GAME THANKSGIVING

The athletic season tickets will be good for a dollar general admission to the Georgetown game on Thanksgiving according to an announcement made by Graduate Manager Hodgkins. There had been some question as to whether they would be good.

It has been arranged with the Georgetown management that both the George Washington and the Georgetown Universities will share alike in the proceeds of the game, but G. W. season tickets will represent a dollar expenditure on the part of George Washington University.

Prior to the game, G. W. season tickets will be taken in exchange for general admission tickets, and will be returned after the game. Reserved seats will be 50 cents extra. The rooting section will be in the center of the reserved seats.

MILITARY COURSES IF 100 MEN APPLY

Officers' Reserve Corps Unit Planned for University

CAPT. McKENNEY URGING COURSES

Instruction Practically Free—Will Not Interfere with Regular Work. Applicants Should Register at Once.

Courses in military tactics under the auspices of the War Department are planned for the University, if a hundred men signify their intention to take them. Military subjects will be introduced by the formation of an Officers' Reserve Training Corps Unit, authorized in the National Defense Act passed by Congress in June.

Capt. H. J. McKenney, Twelfth U. S. Cavalry, ex-'00, has conferred with President Stockton regarding the courses, and plans have his approval. As soon as a hundred men have sent their names to the Secretary of the University as wishing to take the course, the War Department will designate an officer, probably Capt. McKenney, of the regular army to act as professor of military science and tactics.

Course Practically Free
Practically everything will be furnished free by the Government, with the exception of the few text books which the student would have to provide. The course would in no way interfere with the courses at the University or put any obstruction in the way of those in other pursuits. On the completion of the course and complying with the regulations in such matters as attending one camp of instruction, the student member of the Corps is automatically eligible for appointment as a commissioned officer of the Officers' Reserve Corps of the United States.

During the last two years of the course, which is called the Advanced Course, the student receives commutation of rations which would amount to $9 or $10 per month, approximately. While attending the camp of instruction. (Continued on page 4)

CO-ED BALL TOSSERS START PRACTICE TUESDAY

Prospects Bright—Mrs. Eva Baker Lewis to Coach Again—Miss Elizabeth Davis Made Manager

Tryouts for girls' basketball begin next Tuesday at Epiphany gym. Practice will be held every Tuesday from 12:30 to 2 o'clock. Mrs. Eva Baker Lewis will again coach the team.

The team that Miss Baker drilled into shape last year successfully challenged any college girls' team for the South Atlantic championship. The prospects are exceptionally good this year, for practically the whole of last year's team has returned, and the material to pick from for the few vacancies is very promising. Those of last year's team who are to play this year are Misses Seibold, Reh, Gardner, Stimpson and Callahan.

About 30 girls have thus far signified their intention of trying out for the team, and class teams are being organized.

Miss Elizabeth Davis has been appointed manager of the team by Dean Fraser and Graduate Manager Hodgkins at the request of a majority of the candidates, and she is arranging a schedule of home and out-of-town games. Miss Theodosia D. Seibold is again captain of the team this year.

BAND WILL PLAY TOMORROW

The band will play tomorrow at the Eastern College game, according to an announcement by its leaders, David Davis and Maurice Hermsmark. This will be the first appearance of the new organization in public. The musicians practice tonight in the A. & S. Assembly Hall. Bass and drum players are needed.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1916.

The Hatchet endeavors to print all the real news of interest to the University and its following. In each department it has its representative, and an attempt is made to completely "cover" every phase of student or official news.

The editors invite constructive criticism of the paper at all times.

If any member of the faculty or student body receives some honor,
The Hatchet wants to know about it.
Reports of meetings of student clubs, fraternity and sorority events, and other news are wanted.

On account of the space limitations,
all ordinary news must be concisely
and plainly expressed, and must be in the hands of the editors by Tuesday night, or as much earlier as possible. News of paramount importance can be received as late as Thursday noon and still appear in Friday's paper.

The Hatchet desires the co-operation and help of all interested in the University.

There are opportunities for students interested in newspaper work to get practical experience by working on The Hatchet. Editors and business managers in coming years are chosen from the active staff.

More Doors

Activities at George Washington University are being managed by a limited number of the student body.
The whole of the student body is interested in football, dramatics, track,
and debating, but a handful of earnest
men and women are doing the work
in each activity.

Of course, this is the condition in outside life. A few do things, others exist. But it seems that there should be more in this University to take an active interest in activities.

There are plenty of chances for students not only to work, but do important work, in editing and managing the publications, in managing the athletic teams, in playing in the productions of the Players. Those now in control are doing the heavy work, either because they can not co-operate with helpers or they can not get them, usually the latter case.

An activity at George Washington flourishes then dies down. What does that mean? An efficient person has run it for a while, but did not train his successor who had to make the same mistakes that his predecessor did to reach the same heights.

Then there are those of the type that talks a great deal, promise much and do little. But they are so common that we know about them.

Education is turning more to the practical. There was a time when pedagogical hands were lifted in horror at the word "Vocational." Now we have it in our best colleges. Journalistic instruction is combining the practical with the theoretical. The proposed military courses are purely vocational. Politics were discussed, neutrally of course, in one of the economics classes the other day, and no one got up and walked out.

Athletic finances, the seat of athletic failures in the past, have again loomed up. It will take careful supervision of expenditures to bring athletic financially to a successful close this year, but with the present management it should be done, in spite of previous expenditures.

BULLETIN—At a late hour last night the Democratic Club of George Washington University still refused to concede the election of Mr. Hughes.

Returns from bets are slower coming in than were the returns election night.

Complete canvass of all laboratories
on election night gave a very heavy vote in favor of hearing election returns. Out of ten labs 9% gave 9999 per cent vote in favor of removing work to the Avenue.

We tried our level best to get the editor of the Cherry Tree to try his hand at this column (to give him practice for his funny department),
but he said "Nix."

Far be it from us to say anything about those notes that you don't recognize as yours on the back page.
No. But we do wish that typewriters were free, that they would not write single space, that paper scraps would vanish when notes were about to written, that more people had first names and knew how to spell them,
that handwriting experts were not needed to read "copy," that—etc.
Of course there are some exceptions,
but—

The hammer part of the Hatchet
asks us to say a word about the notes that don't come in at all, and those that arrive by slow freight, overdue.
We have.

There is a real physical benefit to the spectator of a football game. Did you ever get up and root for the team at a hard game, snake dance about the field and then go home and complain that you had not been getting enough exercise? Not usually.

Every good cheer leader must be at heart a musician. A knowledge of poetry must be had to concert the outbursts of several hundred throats. To lead with graceful motions the cheers he must be a dancer. Whether or not those who command "Give 'em a G.
W.," make 'er loud" are all this, we do not know. This is a theoretical view point.

THIRD FLOOR FRONT

ABOUT DRAMATIC POLICY
Following the policy of former embryonic dramatic clubs, the Players
this year promise the same out-dried program of too-heavy productions. Too heavy in the sense that amateur talent cannot be expected to furnish sufficient material to develop plays with plots of any depth.

The situation of last year deserves mention here. While the final effort of the Dramatic Association in "Disraeli" was a financial success and well patronized there was a decided lack of opportunity for individual members of the cast. That is, without criticizing the ability of the performers, the element of naturalness was lacking, and the play was acted.

While no one doubts the amateur ability of the personnel of the Players, nor overlooks the enthusiasm and earnestness of it, there can be no doubt that the present Committee in charge has to cope with the proposition of selecting plays that will arouse the interest of the whole student body (and that interest an enthusiastic one) rather than selecting those of the most merit. However deplorable the last statement may be, it is nevertheless a conceded fact that the average student audience will, and does, appreciate plays verging on the musical or order, or farces of the artificial type.

Therefore, again, it is the duty of the Committee selecting plays for production to weigh the popular demand against "art for art's sake" and then,
with the situation well in hand, approve only those plays meeting with the necessities of the occasion, and which will be of the most benefit to the cause for which the Players was organized.

"GHEAPHITHEIGHTTEOUGH"

Which is the unsimplified spelling of
"Potato?"

As an argument for simplified spelling, Prof. De Witt C. Crissant spelt a word in unsimplified spelling for members of the Federal Schoolmen's Club at their banquet Saturday night.
"Gheaphitheightteough" was the word.

"Potato" is the ordinary spelling of
it, said Prof. Crissant.

And this is the way he explained it.
The gh assumes the sound attributed to it in "hiccough." Bau as in "beau." Phth as in "phthisis." Eigh as in "weigh." Tte as in "gastie." And ough as in "though."

Dr. Ralph Davis, Kappa Psi, has been appointed interne at the Washington Asylum.

Artillery Recruiting
Smoker Wednesday Night

A recruiting smoker will be held by the Coast Artillery Company in its quarters at the First Street Armory, 230 First Street, next Monday night at 9 o'clock immediately after an early drill. All men of the University are invited.

The company needs more men, and in the interest of a second company a recruiting campaign is being started. There are now 73 men in the company, five of whom are enlisted for the second company.

Under Capt. Burns and Thompson, part of the company spent Saturday evening and Sunday at Fort Washington at big gun practice. First class gunner examinations were held,
and on Wednesday evening at the armory examinations for rated positions were held.

Additional plotting equipment which will be received in the club rooms at the armory will soon make it possible to practice everything but the loading of the gun without going to Fort Washington.

HOLD URSINUS TO TIE

en, and there was a rush to the G.
W. banner in the center of the field.

In the first few minutes of play, Cohill, left end, was put out of the game by the dislocation and the tearing of the ligaments of his arm. In the second period, Eckendorf hurt his shoulder, and also he tried to come back in the game later, he was forced out by his injury.

Giacomo and Hillis Stars

Giacomo was the star of the game,
the well matched by Hillis, Giblin and Genesee. Giacomo was in every play and was a fiend on following a free ball, recovering nearly all the fumbles which were frequent on the part of Ursinus. Hillis sprinted better than his opponent and carried the ball for the only substantial gains thru the line. Giblin and Genesee played well on our strong left wing.

The Game Play by Play

G. W. received the ball on the kick off and seemed to play a cautious game, trying to feel out their strong opponents. Ursinus led for the first quarter, making three first downs to G. W.'s one. This gave them an opportunity for an unsuccessful placement kick from the 30-yard line. G.
W. had the advantage in the exchange of punts.

The second quarter was played in midfield until Giacomo lost the ball
in a hard tackle on receiving a punt.
This gave Ursinus another opportunity to attempt a placement kick.

In the beginning of the last half G.
W. got within striking distance of Ursinus' goal by the aerial route, but Giacomo's attempt went low. Later a Ursinus punt, blocked and recovered, gave G. W. another opportunity to drop kick, but Giacomo's attempt missed by inches. Ursinus made a first down to start the last quarter and then the line held. G. W. received a punt and made first down on a 20-yard run by Hillis. The game then opened up with forward passing in vogue. G. W. broke up Ursinus' passes and an intercepted pass gave Giacomo another chance at a field goal. His kick was blocked, but he recovered. A forward pass, Pepper to Hefferman, was good for 5 yards, and contributed to first down. Ursinus regained the ball and gave a sensational ending to the game by a series of forward passes.

CHEMICAL ECONOMICS COURSE

A new graduate course on chemical economics and statistics is being offered by Dean Charles E. Munroe to advanced chemical students. It is a research into the fluctuations in prices of chemical substances during one or two centuries and the probable cause of the variations found.

The work will be original and will necessitate the use of many old chemical books and records. "Platinum will be one of the first chemicals investigated."

Another new graduate course being offered is one in "Problems in Mathematical Electricity" by Dr. Harvey L.
Curtis. This one-credit course will cover the fields of static electricity,
magnetism and electromagnetism.

Miss Amy Gronna is at her home in Laurel, N. Dak., where she is engaged in Friendship Club work.

PRESIDENT STOCKTON LECTURES

Talks to Women's Section of Navy
League on "International Law"

President Stockton delivered the first lecture in the free course being given at the Theodoros Bailey Myers Mason House of the women's section of the Navy League on "International Law."

The following points were emphasized in the course of the address:
International law is a result of common agreement. No one country or group of countries can make or unmake international law. International law is as effective in time of war as in time of peace. An infraction or violation of international law does not destroy the code any more than the imposition or violation of any municipal law destroys its force or sanctity. The weakness in the code, however, is the lack of compulsory enforcement.

EQUAL LAST YEAR'S SCORE

matches, as well as last year's team, picked from all arms, did. Fourteen out of nineteen members of the team were from the Coast Artillery Company.

LEARN TO TELL A STORY

Miss Stockard to Organize Story-
Tellers' League

Do you ever have trouble in telling a story? If you do, there is a club in Washington that will help you.

Miss Marietta Stockard, lecturer on the teaching of children's literature
in Teachers College, is secretary-treasurer of the National Story-Tellers' League, and is organizing a branch
in Washington.

All the persons who are interested in telling stories of any kind, from those that are told in the early morning to a waiting wife, to wondrous tales of fairies, giants, and mythological creatures to amuse little children will meet in the Gridiron room of the New Willard this evening.

Ensign E. D. Snyder, '15, is aboard the U. S. S. "Des Moines," which is now stationed in the war zone in the

STUDENT FEES PAY BILLS OF UNIVERSITY

Excellent Financial Condition of University shown by Treasurer's Report Now Off Press

That the University is supported entirely by the tuition fees of its students is information furnished in the report of Chas. W. Holmes, treasurer of the University, for 1915-16, recently published as a number of the University Bulletin.

The excellent financial condition of the University and progress during the past year is shown by the following extract of Mr. Holmes' letter of transmission:

Endowments were received during the year as follows: Alumni Professorship of Mathematics Fund $746.09; Theodore J. Mayer bequest $4,078.95; Total $4,825.04. Trust Funds show a total, after rearrangement, of $481,621.98.

New Building Purchased

The plant of the University was increased by the purchase of 2017 G street and adjoining land. The building was remodeled, and an annex constructed in the rear, providing four large class rooms and several offices for teachers. The real estate used for educational purposes shows a book value of $489,982.75.

Equipment costing $4,278.64 and library books costing $2,519.68 were added. After writing off 5% for depreciation the book value of equipment is $91,409.93 and the book value of library books is $41,970.22.

Payments on the mortgage debt were made as follows:

On 2023 G street	$4,500.00
On 1016 13th street	500.00
On 1300 L street	300.00

Total	$5,300.00
The mortgage debt at the close of 1915-1916 stood as follows:
2023 G street	$15,000.00
2017 G street	6,500.00
1016 13th street	5,500.00
1300 L street	4,162.50

Total $31,162.50

Fees Pay Expenses

Contributions were received during the year and applied as follows:

Prizes	$75.00
Maintenance	5,925.00
Buildings and Grounds	3,676.27
Restoration of Cutter Fund
Income	75.14
Furniture	40.00
Geology laboratory	74.01

Total $9,865.42

Student income showed the same ratio to operating expenses as last year (104 per cent) except for the fact that a depreciation of $7,020.01 was written off on equipment and library books and charged to expense. Including this unusual charge the ratio stood at 99 plus per cent.

The Law School Building Fund, authorized by the Board of Trustees May 31, 1916, amounts on this date to $295.00. The amount of all trust funds, including this fund, now available for the Law School site and building, in cash and securities, is $20,537.73. Additional pledges towards the Law School Building Fund are in hand, payable in from one to three years, of $7,180.00.

SPORT WRITER SAYS TEAM WON VIRTUAL VICTORY

This is what Stanley T. Milliken, writing in the Washington Post of last Sunday said about the Ursinus game:

"Every now and then a victory must virtually be credited to a football team when the score at the end of the pastime stands 0 to 0. Thus is George Washington considered the master of Ursinus. It was a bitter and hard fought struggle on Georgetown field yesterday afternoon with the 'despised one' turning and outplaying an eleven that only a short time past took the measure of Lafayette.

"No one expected the Hatchettes to win. Furthermore there were but a few who looked for a tie.

"George Washington went into the battle a rank outsider, but she proved herself to be the better team in every department. The lack of a more concentrated drive is what prevented a marker for the home folks. It was the Hatchettes from beginning to end. Only twice during the conflict were the Pennsylvanians within what might be termed striking distance of their opponents' goal. Only three times did Ursinus have the ball in their own possession beyond the center of the field. Then she was helpless in her attack against the George Washington forwards."

W. F. Stickle, a Phi-Sig, formerly of Swarthmore College, is taking both A. B. and LL. B. courses at the University.

J. A. Fisk, Pharmacy '16, is on the road for the Orrine Chemical Manufacturing Company.

Any person connected with the University, desirous of perfecting his or her horsemanship, and capable of procuring a steed with at least four pegs, is eligible to membership. The members will be known as "Pegasions" or "Pegs" for short. The journeys of the order are to occur once a month and are to be known as "flights."

The officers of the order will be: The Royal Bellerophon, or Master of the Horse; the Noble Welder of the Quill, or Secretary; the Noble Keeper of the Golden Bridle, or Treasurer; the Noble Custodian of the Manger, or Steward; and the Royal Finder of the Chimaera, or Scout.

Reasonable rates for horses for members of the order have been procured at a local livery stable. The first flight will be made Sunday, November 12. All persons interested in joining the Pleasurable Order of Pegasus who are unable to attend the meeting should send their names and addresses to Miss Louise Lowber, 1748 Lamont street.

PRESIDENT PLAYED FOOTBALL

Attended Freeland Academy, Ursinus' Forerunner, and Played on Its Team.

President Stockton watched the Ursinus game on Saturday with more than usual interest. His thoughts went back to 1860, when he used to play football.

For the team representing the University of which Admiral Stockton is president was clashing with the team of an institution that is the outgrowth of Freeland Academy, the institution which Admiral Stockton attended in 1861, and from which he entered the Navy.

"The only game of football I ever played was on the athletic field of what is now Ursinus College," said President Stockton. "Of course, football is played rather differently now than then."

MEDICAL SCHOOL

Dean Borden attended the Ursinus game on Saturday.

Students of the Medical School thoroughly appreciate the action of the faculty in abolishing classes on football days. Their appreciation is manifested by their large attendance at the games.

James E. Houghton and Bertram Groesbeck of the senior class rendered first-aid treatment to the injured football players in Saturday's game.

The enrollment in the junior class has increased 7 per cent during the past week.

Contributions of medical news and notes are earnestly solicited.

Dr. Sterling Taylor, honor man of the class of 1916, recently passed the examination for admission to the Medical Corps of the United States Navy and awaits the signing of his commission.

Many of the graduates of the Medical School will take examinations for entrance into the Army Medical Corps soon.

MILITARY COURSES PLANNED

struction, transportation to and from the camp and subsistence is furnished by the Government. On completion of the course and becoming a member of the Officers' Reserve Corps, of the United States, the Reserve Officer may be appointed, if he so desires, "Temporary Second Lieutenant" for a period of six months, during which time he serves with a regular organization of the United States Army, receiving all of the allowances of a second lieutenant of the United States Army and a salary of $100 per month.

Guardsmen Can Not Join

Eligibility to membership is limited, only, to students who are citizens of the United States, who are not less than fourteen years of age, and whose bodily condition indicates that they are physically fit to perform military duty, or will be so upon arrival at military age. Members of the National Guard are not eligible for membership. Those who are now members of the Guard would have to receive their discharge from the Guard, in order to become members of the unit; but the War Department will probably favor such action, the discharges being granted by way of favor. This has been done in the case of students at Yale, the applications for discharge going through the regular military channels.

"It is believed that the course will meet with favor, generally, as it offers so many exceptional advantages, practically free, to the student," explained Capt. McKenney. "The course is of a much higher order than any experience which might be gained in an enlistment in the Guard. On the completion of an enlistment, in the Guard, with the exception that the discharged Guardsman may be fitted for the duties of an enlisted man, he reverts to the status of a civilian. But on the completion of the course, satisfactorily, the student enters the Officers' Reserve Corps, to be subject to call, only, when the country is to meet an emergency, a commissioned officer of the United States, and at other times he may engage in his chosen civilian pursuits."

Capt. McKenney's Record

Capt. McKenney was attending the University, but when the Spanish-American war began he joined the line of the army. He has seen service during the war in Cuba and Porto Rico; during the insurrection in the northern islands of the Philippines; and, during the Moro campaigns, in Mindanao and Sulu. He has recently returned, on leave, from border patrol duty and was in Mexico, with General Pershing's expedition, during May and June. He has written several text books on scouting, in use in the regular army, and is a constant contributor to military publications on professional subjects.

The new building, 237 G street, will probably be used for lectures and drills will be held in the rear of the A. A. S. Building.

H. B. McCut, Jr., of North Carolina, has been a visitor at George Washington during the past three weeks.
